The statements in this catalog are for information purposes only and should not be considered as the basis of a contract between a student and the Community College of the Air Force.

While the provisions of this catalog will normally be applied as stated, the college reserves the right to change any provision listed in this catalog, including but not limited to academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to individual students. Every effort will be made to keep students informed of such changes. The prime source of information on catalog changes should be the education services center or CCAF representative providing counseling support. Information on changes will be available through the Academic Programs Branch responsible for the student's program of registration, the CCAF Update, Catalog Addendum, and the CCAF Counselor Handbook.

Failure to read the contents of this catalog does not excuse students from the rules and procedures described herein. Personal factors or contradictory advice from any source is not acceptable grounds for seeking exemption from those policies, procedures, and requirements. It is especially important that students note it is their responsibility to be apprised of current
